Board and Staff Friendraising Process

One of the highest value activities for board members is being a roaring advocate for your cause and engaging new people. This process flow chart will help explain and clarify what happens when board members advocate for your organization within their network and connections and also offers a clear process for them.

 This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License. | trec.org